SEMINAR

The Advances in the Management of Traumatic Injuries (AMTI) is a new program offered by The Council on Applied Chiropractic Sciences of the International Chiropractors Association. AMTI is designed to educate chiropractors on up-to-date evidence-based subluxation identification and management due to spinal injuries. This 80-hour, 6 module program will help maximize patient recovery, instruct how to properly document injuries and use the most relevant clinical practice guidelines to support care plans. Upon completion, candidates will receive a certificate.
